BIBLE PASSAGE: Prophets Foretell Jesus' Coming (Jeremiah 33:14-16)

Long before Jesus was born, God gave a message to the prophet Jeremiah. God promised to send Jesus to save his people. Jeremiah told people that God planned to keep his promise. Someday a baby would be born as a member of King David's family line. This baby would grow up to save God's people. Jesus was born, just as God promised. And Jesus was a member of King David's family line. Jesus fulfilled God's promise because he grew up to save people from their sins. In the New Testament, Matthew wrote that Jesus kept the promise God made through the prophet.

Key Verse: "All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet: 'The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel'—which means 'God with us.'" (Matthew 1:22-23)

Bible Point: Jesus fulfilled God's promise.

A Toast to God

Gather condensed milk, food coloring, white bread, new paintbrushes, bowls, and a toaster. Set out four small bowls. Pour into each bowl one tablespoon of condensed milk. Drop a few drops of food coloring into the bowls to make the colors of your choice. Mix well. As a family talk about the importance of keeping promises. Discuss the importance of trusting God to keep his promises.

Then, with a new paintbrush, use the colored milk as your "paint," and paint pictures or designs on your bread that represent how God keeps his promises. For example, you might paint a heart, a cross, or a rainbow. To reveal your design, lightly toast your bread in the toaster. Say a "toast" to God and thank him for fulfilling his biggest promise through Jesus, and then enjoy your snacks together.

Weather Predictions

Watch the weather forecast together for a few weeks. Keep track of how many times the forecast is correct or incorrect. Talk about methods meteorologists use to determine the weather forecast. With all of their technology, meteorologists still get the forecast wrong on occasion. No person can predict the future—only God knows the future. When God says something will happen, it always does. As a family, praise God for keeping his promises—and for controlling the weather!

Have a great week PEACE Kids!

Million Reasons

Thank you, God, for saving me
Rescued from the middle of the ocean deep
You set my feet on solid ground
I once was lost, but now am found!

Everything I have, I owe it all to you
For everything you are, and all you do, Lord
I could write a book fill every single page
With a million reasons to thank you Lord!

Thank you, God, for the big blue sky
And birds that fly so high
Thank you, God, for all my friends
Thank you, God, for your awesomeness!

Everything I have, I owe it all to you
For everything you are, and all you do, Lord
I could write a book fill every single page
With a million reasons to thank you Lord!
To thank you Lord!

Thank you, God, for all you've done
You gave your one and only son
Now I can have eternal life
Thank you for my open eyes!

Everything I have, I owe it all to you
For everything you are, and all you do, Lord
I could write a book fill every single page
With a million reasons ...

Everything I have, I owe it all to you
For everything you are, and all you do, Lord,
I could write a book on every single page
With a million reasons to thank you Lord!
To thank you, Lord! To thank you, Lord!

Praying Together

Dear God,

Thank you that we can trust you to always keep your promises. Thank you for sending Jesus to keep the greatest promise of all. Help us keep our promises, too.

In Jesus' name,
Amen

Promise Pals

This week see how many promises your family members can make and keep. Every morning at breakfast, let each person make a promise to someone else in the family. For example, someone might promise to clear the table without being asked or to read a book at bedtime. Then see how many promises are kept. At the end of the week, talk about how hard it is sometimes to keep our promises. Then celebrate the fact that God always keeps his promises!

Keep Your Promise!
